the Organization

- A not-for-profit professional association focused on providing fire investigation credentials, training and resources.
- The world's #1 provider of training and education in fire investigation and related disciplines, supporting fire safety and prevention, fire loss claims and litigation, and arson enforcement and prosecution.
- The experts behind CFITrainer.Net, THE online resource for fire investigation training, with more than 84 modules in fire investigation-related topics.
- Strong, long-term relationships with thousands of fire departments, private fire investigation companies, law enforcement agencies, federal and state government agencies, insurance companies, legal firms and engineering firms.
- Committed to both the public sector fire investigation process and criminal litigation, as well as the private sector side of fire investigation related to fire loss, civil claims and subrogation.

the Audience

- A niche market of public and private sector fire investigators, attorneys, engineers, researchers, insurance adjusters, forensic scientists, educators and Special fire Investigation Unit leadership.
- 11,000+ members from every discipline related to fire investigation.
- Last year, CFITrainer had 164,000 users come in for 389,000 sessions averaging 62 minutes each. Firearson had 600,000+ views.

the Opportunities

- Network with hundreds of professionals and market your products and services at the IAAI's ITC Expo.
- Fund the development of a new course at CFITrainer.Net and have the opportunity to provide content input as a member of the expert committee and see your contribution acknowledged in the course with "PBS-style brought to you by" bumpers.
- Sponsor an existing CFITrainer.Net online course.
- Partner with IAAI to underwrite training and networking events year-round.
- Advertise your company, products, or services in print with Fire & Arson Investigator journal.
- Sponsor a regional training event or conference.
- Donate a product to IAAI for fundraising and receive co-promotion.
- Advertise your job openings on firearson.com and reach highly qualified candidates.

print Opportunities - Fire & Arson Investigator

About the International Association of Arson Investigators (IAAI)

The International Association of Arson Investigators, Inc. (IAAI) first chartered in 1951 in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, became a viable and functional association due to the need and necessity of education and training in the uncharted waters of fire and arson investigation, which was nonexistent at that time. Today, the IAAI is an association of more than 11,000 fire, explosion and arson investigation professionals from across the world, united by a strong commitment to suppress the crime of arson through professional fire investigation.
