

What is your vision for the IAAI Foundation for the next five years?

As an incumbent director, I would like the opportunity to continue to lead the Foundation to financial and operational excellence. I would continue the ITC training scholarships, re-institute academic scholarships and create a live burn research grant which would involve publishing findings in the Fire & Arson Investigator and/or at the ITC.

I see the Foundation's role as to develop funding sources to support the IAAI mission. As such, I would seek to work closely with the IAAI Board to support their vision for the future. I however, envision the IAAI establishing a state-of-the-art fire research and training academy. Such a facility would complete the IAAI mission to be the global leader in fire investigations.

What positions have you held in your local Chapter?

I have served the Arizona Chapter as a member of the Board of Directors, as Treasurer and on the Training & Education, Communications, and Finance and Audit Committees

What positions have you held in IAAI?

I served seven years on the Board of Directors of the IAAI.

I am currently an IAAI public information officer and serve as the IAAI principal representative to the NFPA Technical Committee on Fire Investigations (NFPA 921). I also serve on the Fire Investigator Standards Committee, the Ethical Practices and Grievance Committee and am a subject matter reviewer for the Fire and Arson Investigator journal. I have previously served as Sergeant-at-arms, as a member of the Strategic Planning Committee, and chaired the Membership Committee, the Independent Investigators Advisory Committee, and the NFPA 921 Advisory Committee.
